

Inside? Outside?

Non-fiction

Lots of families enjoy camping in the summer holidays. But when it comes to choosing where to sleep, there are two options: a caravan or a tent. Which is better? Here is what some families think.

Caravans

For	Against
Warm and comfortable, whatever the weather	Very expensive to buy or hire
Has a proper kitchen, toilet and beds	Heavy and difficult to tow behind a car
Safe and weatherproof — great for wet nights	Takes a long time to set up at the campsite

Tents

For	Against
Much cheaper than a caravan — inexpensive to hire too	Can be noisy in strong wind — very loud at night
Lightweight and easy to carry on any adventure	Can feel miserable and unpleasant in heavy rain
Fun and exciting — great for feeling close to nature	Often cold at night with no proper heating

Which months are best for camping?

Not all summer months are the same! Here is some weather data to help you decide when to go camping.

Month	Sunshine (hours per day)	Rainy days
July	7	9
August	8	7
September	6	12
